

Ambit Energy Hosts 4th Annual Simulcast, Announces Expansion into Virginia and New Hampshire

Leading retail energy provider represented in 13 states across America

DALLAS – January 14, 2014 – Ambit Energy, a leading retail energy provider of electricity and natural gas in deregulated states across the country, held its Simulcast 2014 event on Saturday, Jan. 11. The event was broadcast from seven cities across the country, including Austin, Baltimore, Chicago, Newark, Pittsburgh, San Jose, and Syracuse. This 4th annual conference provided Ambit Energy Consultants with a day of training, motivation, important announcements and a special message from John C. Maxwell.

“Simulcast 2014 brought more than 12,000 excited Consultants together on one day to focus on goals for achieving financial success in the coming year,” said Chris Chambless, Co-founder and CMO for Ambit Energy. “With new tools, new markets and new goals, our Consultants are prepared to make 2014 their best year ever.”

The biggest announcement at the event was the expansion of service into two new states, Virginia and New Hampshire. The company will also add natural gas services in UGI Gas territory in Pennsylvania and electricity services in Sharyland Utilities and Sharyland McAllen territories in Texas. The company will begin accepting customer enrollments in these markets this spring.
