Ambit Energy named to The Dallas Morning News' Top 100 Places to Work for its Sixth Year

DALLAS, TX - November 21, 2016 - Ambit Energy, a leading national retail energy provider based in Dallas, has been ranked No. 23 by The Dallas Morning News' Top 100 Places to Work 2016 in the Large Company category.

Ambit Energy was chosen as a Top Place to Work based on an independently conducted anonymous survey of its employees by Workplace Dynamics, The Dallas Morning News' research partner.

"We are greatly honored to again be recognized as one of the Top 100 Places to Work in Dallas, which is an acknowledgement of our strong corporate culture and the dynamic work environment that we provide for all of our employees," said Jere Thompson, Jr., Co-founder and CEO for Ambit Energy. "We are thankful for the hard work and dedication of our team members who continually contribute to our efforts to be the finest and most-respected retail energy provider."

Ambit first claimed its position on the Top 100 Places to Work in 2009. Since then, Ambit Energy has not only increased its training and career opportunities, but also revamped and expanded its West End headquarters and Plano Support Center.

Founded in 2006 by Thompson and CMO Chris Chambless, Ambit provides electricity and natural gas services in deregulated markets in 16 states and Washington D.C., primarily using a direct sales channel of more than 400,000 Independent Consultants. The company has more than 1.3 million customers nationwide and recorded revenue of $1.37 billion in 2015.
