Ambit Energy named to The Dallas Morning News' Top 100 Places to Work for Eighth Year

DALLAS – Ambit Energy, a leading international retail energy provider, has been ranked 25th by The Dallas Morning News' Top 100 Places to Work 2018 in the Large Company category.

This marks the eighth time Ambit has been included on the list since 2009 and the recognition comes in no small part because of the company's continued emphasis on employees. In the past year, Ambit has increased focus on corporate culture, training opportunities and committed to developing talent internally resulting in 68 employee promotions.

"It's exciting to receive recognition for the commitment and passion of our team members," said Jere Thompson, Jr., Co-founder and CEO of Ambit Energy. "We make a point of fostering a strong corporate culture at Ambit, nurturing talent and rewarding those who make strong contributions toward our goal of becoming the finest, most-respected retail energy provider in the world."

Ambit was founded in 2006 by Thompson and Chris Chambless, and provides electricity and natural gas services in deregulated markets in 16 states, Washington D.C., Japan and Canada. The company serves more than 1.2 million customers and recorded $1.1 billion in revenue in 2017.

Ambit Energy was chosen as a Top Place to Work based on an independently conducted anonymous survey of its employees by Energage, The Dallas Morning News' research partner.
